

The first appointment :

How long do we have to stay in Barcelona for the first visit?

Twenty four hours is usually enough.

What does the first appointment entail?

1- An interview with an IVF specialist and another with an embryologist. The IVF specialist will tell you what treatment you need to take and the embryologist will explain to you all the laboratory procedures that will be performed.

2- Tests that need to be done.

3- Signing of the Consent Form for the specific assisted reproduction technique to be performed. By signing the Consent Form, patients agree that they have been fully informed about all the medical, biological, legal, ethical and economic matters related to their specific treatment and that they willingly accept the conditions stated in the Consent Form.

4- Instructions for the medication to be administered.

5- Selection of the most suitable day to start the treatment.

What tests need to be performed before starting an IVF cycle with donor sperm?

1- Vaginal ultrasound.

2- Day 3 blood hormonal levels (day 1 is the first day of the menses).

3- Embryo transfer catheter test.

What tests need to be performed before starting an IVF cycle with donor eggs?

1- Vaginal ultrasound.

2- Semen analysis.

3- Embryo transfer catheter test.